The American cruise ship arrived at Colombo on the 17th January en route to Manila. On the night of arrival a second class stowaway, named John Mili, died from consumption, and the body was taken ashore and buried at Colombo.

the other partner being Mr. J. Davenport.

One of the most marvellous results obtained by the collection of postage stamps has been achieved by the Seminary at Liege.
Since the movement was started several years ago 300,000,000 stamps have been collected, which realised 50,000 francs.

It is asserted (says a Home paper) that the British fleet in China waters is to be strengthened ere long by the addition of two cruisers. The Uganda and the St George are reported to have been told off leave Portsmouth for China. Both are powerful first-class cruisers, and were dispatched to the Pacific to protect U.S. ships during their last commission; the Albatross at the Cape, the Albatross on the Australian Station. Of course, the Albatross will not really be strengthened, as the Albatross and Albatross are being recalled to England, and probably the Albatross.

ing among the American Commissioners. Paris that an absolute 'open door' policy would be adhered to in the Philippines and that other countries would be given the same facilities as the United States. This is very interesting, but, in the meanwhile, something might be done to unligate the rotten state of affairs in the Manila Custom House, bitter complain-

At the Legislative Council meeting convened for Wednesday afternoon, Mr. Bellini will submit his questions with regard to the New Public Buildings, and the Acting Colonial Secretary will move a resolution. There will be read for the first time—Ordinance to consolidate and amend the Laws relating to Merchant Slipping, the duties of the Harbour Master, the control and management of the masters of the Colony, and the regulation of vessels navigating the same; and an Ordinance to consolidate and amend the Laws relating to Criminal Procedure in the Supreme Court. The Bills which were up for consideration at last meeting will be advanced to another stage.

A LONGER of the name of Webb has d writing the entire contents of the Bible in a space only about the size of a postage stamp. We find to see the utility of new invention. We have trouble enough in reading some of our departed calligraphers that find it a way to this office. There is paper enough and no scarcity of ink to provide the whole world with Bibles printed in plain type, and we do not think it was ever intended to do injury to, or enlighten by, indulgence in such an absurd fad. A short break in our office reading of the printed text-proofs would cure undoubtedly after an excessive printing. The art of the new type writing is heavy with a thick

The whole of Homer's Iliad was written on sheets of sheepskin small enough to place in a suitcase, and an ancient copy of Parus was presented with a grain of wheat, a small gold coin, and a papyrus allepoie which contained an entire poem written in letters of gold. It seems extraordinary that most of those mentioned above have shown works of a merely average character. In the case of the Parus for transcription, an Italian monk, P. de Mussina, had a small coin of the size of a pea, and a papyrus leaf of the size of a leaflet, on which were written the Iliad of St. John and the Acts of the Apostles. Visitors to the City Hall Museum will soon be aware of free coin which is inserted the Lord's Prayer. Not long ago a man was an applicant for an appointment under the Australian Government seal to improve a petition, containing 400 lines, written on a grain of wheat, and to teach his skill as a penman, append his petition by a prayer for the Imperial family written on the edge of his vest.
